Dressage at Devon 2014
Save the Dates!
September 23 – 28, 2014

Devon, PA (April 29, 2014) – The dates are set. Prize lists are in the works. Volunteer schedules are being prepared. And menus and parties are being planned. Top level riders (and their horses) have blocked the dates. It's a lot of work and a lot of fun as preparations for Dressage at Devon 2014 go into full gear.

This year's event – now in its 39th year - will take place September 23-28, 2014 at the Devon Horse Show and Country Fair Grounds in Devon, PA. The six day show features the largest open breed show in the country (check to make sure if there's a class for your favorite) plus three days of expert performances.

The facility itself holds decades of tradition. The approximately 18-acre facility includes two lighted outdoor arenas and five covered grandstands with individual and box seating for more than 3,000 spectators. The site also provides warm-up areas and permanent barns with stabling for approximately 900 horses.

A tree-lined path hosts a wide variety of products for the horse, the rider and the spectator. You'll find everything from riding apparel and tack to fine art, jewelry, antiques, pottery and Dressage at Devon souvenirs. Oh, and did we mention a great variety of great gourmet food?

Reserved seating is now available. To visit the online box office, visit www.dressageatdevon.org and click on spectators.

About Dressage at Devon

Dressage at Devon (www.dressageatdevon.org) has been the premier North American Equestrian event since its founding by the Delaware Valley Combined Training Association in 1975, and became a separate organization in 2006. It combines world-class dressage competition and the world's largest open breed show with the international Fall Festival show and special activities for the entire family. The six-day event attracts hundreds of horses from around the world and thousands of spectators. Dressage at Devon is a 501(c) (3) PA non-profit organization, benefitting equine education.
